Over the past 25 years, Tina Radford has been advising, coaching, consulting and developing leaders at all levels of an organisation, and across nearly every industry.

Tina has worked alongside CEO's, Business Leaders, CFO's, HR Managers and Line Managers, and a diverse range of employers to provide coaching, practical advice and training workshops in the areas of leadership development, culture, high performance teams and best practice HR strategies.

Having led and grown her own successful HR Consulting practice, Tina has hands-on experience and offers a refreshingly practical and straight forward approach to her HR Solutions. With experience across almost every industry on a national and global level, Tina is widely sought after for her leadership expertise, insights into organisational culture and focus on HR performance management. Her toolkit of HR Solutions is abundant.

CEO's and business leaders call on Tina and the Radford HR Team to deliver HR consultancy services in a flexible and professional way. Tina is especially passionate about creating the link between people and profit for organisations.

Tina spends most of her time providing strategic HR advice to clients and working in the leadership development space in Brisbane and on the Gold Coast. Tina is a regular conference presenter on HR Matters and Leadership topics, and a popular workshop facilitator. Tina is proud to be the trusted advisor to many wonderful clients.
